Volume 57 Index

Authors and Articles

Alexander, P. A., and S. L. Knight. Dimensions of the interplay between learning and teaching. 57(3): 232–45.

Ball, E. W., and B. Harry. Multicultural education and special education: Parallels, divergences, and intersections. 57(4): 430–37.

Bolding, J. T. (See Van Patten)

Bouas, M. J. The three R's of moral education: Emile Durkheim revisited. 57(2): 180–85.

Brandis, B. A primer of educational philosophy. 57(2): 209–14.

Bucci, J. A., and A. F. Reitzammer. Teachers make the critical difference in dropout prevention. 57(1): 63–70.

Campisi, E. The forgotten. 57(1): 73.

Canning, C. Preparing for diversity: A social technology for multicultural community building. 57(4): 371–85.

Cline, Z. (See Necochea)

Cooper, D. D. Believing in difference: The ethics of civic literacy. 57(2): 168–77.

Deaton, W. L. (See Lauderdale)

Dicker, S. J. "Ethnic irrelevance" and the immigrant: Finding a place for minority languages. 57(2): 120–33.

Duncan, G. Racism as a developmental mediator. 57(4): 360–70.

Durm, M. W. An A is not an A is not an A: A history of grading. 57(3): 294–97.

First, P. F. Sex education in the public schools: A clash of religious freedom and the general welfare. 57(1): 76–83.

Frisby, C. L., and C. M. Tucker. Black children's perception of self: Implications for educators. 57(2): 146–56.

Garcia, J. A commentary on increasing minority faculty representation in schools of education. 57(4): 420–29.

Glasser, W. Quality, trust, and redefining education. 57(1): 37–40.

Grant, C. A. So you want to infuse multicultural education into your discipline? Case study: Art education. 57(1): 18–28.

Griessman, B. E. A creed for citizens of a diverse world. 57(4): 359.

Haberman, M. Should college youth be prepared for teaching? 57(1): 30–36.

Haley, J. F. Teaching: A profession. 57(2): 204–8.

Harris, M. M., and J. G. Pickle. Creating an equitable environment: Gender equity in Lincoln, Nebraska. 57(1): 12–17.

Harry, B. (See Ball)

Hernández, J. S. Bilingual metacognitive development. 57(4): 350–58.

Herrington, C. D. (See Kochan)

Hill, J. C. The teacher as artist: A case for peripheral supervision. 57(2): 215–18.

Hogsett, C. A new paradigm for schools. 57(3): 246–55.

Horton, L. Drug and alcohol education. 57(1): 84–89.

Hunter, G. Existentialism: Practical classroom applications. 57(2): 191–96.

Jones-Quartey, T. S. The academic library's role in the effort to improve ethnic minority retention. 57(3): 277–82.

Kanpol, B. Critical curriculum theorizing as subjective imagery: Reply to Goodman. 57(3): 325–30.

Kenney, D. J., and T. S. Watson. Improving school safety by empowering students. 57(1): 50–62.

Knight, S. L. (See Alexander)

Kochan, F. K., and C. D. Herrington. Restructuring for today's children: Strengthening schools by strengthening families. 57(1): 42–49.

LaFayette, A. A tense moment. 57(1): 72.

Larkin, J. M. Rethinking basic skills instruction with urban students. 57(4): 413–19.

Lauderdale, W. B., and W. L. Deaton. Future teachers react to past racism. 57(3): 266–76.

Lenox, M. F., and M. L. Walker. Information literacy in the educational process. 57(3): 312–24.

Mangieri, J. N. Schools and colleges of education: A new perspective. 57(3): 256–58.

McGrath, G. D. Harbingers of improvement in teacher education. 57(3): 332–35.

Michalove, S. D. The educational crusade of Jonathan Kozol. 57(3): 300–11.

Morse, W. C. (See Munger)

Munger, R., and W. C. Morse. When divorce rocks a child's world. 57(1): 100–3.

Necochea, J., and Z. Cline. Building capacity in the education of language minority students. 57(4): 402–12.

Nel, J., and D. S. Seckinger. Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi in the 1990s: Implications for today's multicultural classrooms. 57(4): 394–401.

Passow, A. H. Recognizing excellence in education: Teachers and teacher education. 57(3): 284–93.

Pickle, J. G. (See Harris)

Reitzammer, A. F. (See Bucci)

Rich, J. M. Education and family values. 57(2): 162–67.

Richardson, R. C. (See Wilcox)

Seckinger, D. S. (See Nel)

Shouse, J. B. The school has captured the world. 57(1): 104–6.

SooHoo, S. Students as partners in research and restructuring schools. 57(4): 386–93.

Tucker, C. M. (See Frisby)

Van Patten, J. J., and J. T. Bolding. Character building: The contributions of "Coin" Harvey. 57(2): 186–90.

Wakefield, A. P. Developmentally appropriate practice: "Figuring things out." 57(2): 134–43.

Walker, M. L. (See Lenox)

Washburn, K. What I've been told. 57(1): 73.

Watson, T. S. (See Kenney)

Wheeldon, J. Privilege, education, and responsibility. 57(2): 157–59.

Wilcox, D. J., and R. C. Richardson. What changes will make a difference in restructuring education? 57(3): 259–64.

Volume 57 Index

Authors and Articles

Alexander, P. A., and S. L. Knight. Dimensions of the interplay between learning and teaching. 57(3): 232–45.

Ball, E. W., and B. Harry. Multicultural education and special education: Parallels, divergences, and intersections. 57(4): 430–37.

Bolding, J. T. (See Van Patten)

Bouas, M. J. The three R's of moral education: Emile Durkheim revisited. 57(2): 180–85.

Brandis, B. A primer of educational philosophy. 57(2): 209–14.

Bucci, J. A., and A. F. Reitzammer. Teachers make the critical difference in dropout prevention. 57(1): 63–70.

Campisi, E. The forgotten. 57(1): 73.

Canning, C. Preparing for diversity: A social technology for multicultural community building. 57(4): 371–85.

Cline, Z. (See Necochea)

Cooper, D. D. Believing in difference: The ethics of civic literacy. 57(2): 168–77.

Deaton, W. L. (See Lauderdale)

Dicker, S. J. "Ethnic irrelevance" and the immigrant: Finding a place for minority languages. 57(2): 120–33.

Duncan, G. Racism as a developmental mediator. 57(4): 360–70.

Durm, M. W. An A is not an A is not an A: A history of grading. 57(3): 294–97.

First, P. F. Sex education in the public schools: A clash of religious freedom and the general welfare. 57(1): 76–83.

Frisby, C. L., and C. M. Tucker. Black children's perception of self: Implications for educators. 57(2): 146–56.

Garcia, J. A commentary on increasing minority faculty representation in schools of education. 57(4): 420–29.

Glasser, W. Quality, trust, and redefining education. 57(1): 37–40.

Grant, C. A. So you want to infuse multicultural education into your discipline? Case study: Art education. 57(1): 18–28.

Griessman, B. E. A creed for citizens of a diverse world. 57(4): 359.

Haberman, M. Should college youth be prepared for teaching? 57(1): 30–36.

Haley, J. F. Teaching: A profession. 57(2): 204–8.

Harris, M. M., and J. G. Pickle. Creating an equitable environment: Gender equity in Lincoln, Nebraska. 57(1): 12–17.

Harry, B. (See Ball)

Hernández, J. S. Bilingual metacognitive development. 57(4): 350–58.

Herrington, C. D. (See Kochan)

Hill, J. C. The teacher as artist: A case for peripheral supervision. 57(2): 215–18.

Hogsett, C. A new paradigm for schools. 57(3): 246–55.

Horton, L. Drug and alcohol education. 57(1): 84–89.

Hunter, G. Existentialism: Practical classroom applications. 57(2): 191–96.

Jones-Quartey, T. S. The academic library's role in the effort to improve ethnic minority retention. 57(3): 277–82.

Kanpol, B. Critical curriculum theorizing as subjective imagery: Reply to Goodman. 57(3): 325–30.

Kenney, D. J., and T. S. Watson. Improving school safety by empowering students. 57(1): 50–62.

Knight, S. L. (See Alexander)

Kochan, F. K., and C. D. Herrington. Restructuring for today's children: Strengthening schools by strengthening families. 57(1): 42–49.

LaFayette, A. A tense moment. 57(1): 72.

Larkin, J. M. Rethinking basic skills instruction with urban students. 57(4): 413–19.

Lauderdale, W. B., and W. L. Deaton. Future teachers react to past racism. 57(3): 266–76.

Lenox, M. F., and M. L. Walker. Information literacy in the educational process. 57(3): 312–24.

Mangieri, J. N. Schools and colleges of education: A new perspective. 57(3): 256–58.

McGrath, G. D. Harbingers of improvement in teacher education. 57(3): 332–35.

Michalove, S. D. The educational crusade of Jonathan Kozol. 57(3): 300–11.

Morse, W. C. (See Munger)

Munger, R., and W. C. Morse. When divorce rocks a child's world. 57(1): 100–3.

Necochea, J., and Z. Cline. Building capacity in the education of language minority students. 57(4): 402–12.

Nel, J., and D. S. Seckinger. Johann Heinrich Pestalozzi in the 1990s: Implications for today's multicultural classrooms. 57(4): 394–401.

Passow, A. H. Recognizing excellence in education: Teachers and teacher education. 57(3): 284–93.

Pickle, J. G. (See Harris)

Reitzammer, A. F. (See Bucci)

Rich, J. M. Education and family values. 57(2): 162–67.

Richardson, R. C. (See Wilcox)

Seckinger, D. S. (See Nel)

Shouse, J. B. The school has captured the world. 57(1): 104–6.

SooHoo, S. Students as partners in research and restructuring schools. 57(4): 386–93.

Tucker, C. M. (See Frisby)

Van Patten, J. J., and J. T. Bolding. Character building: The contributions of "Coin" Harvey. 57(2): 186–90.

Wakefield, A. P. Developmentally appropriate practice: "Figuring things out." 57(2): 134–43.

Walker, M. L. (See Lenox)

Washburn, K. What I've been told. 57(1): 73.

Watson, T. S. (See Kenney)

Wheeldon, J. Privilege, education, and responsibility. 57(2): 157–59.

Wilcox, D. J., and R. C. Richardson. What changes will make a difference in restructuring education? 57(3): 259–64.

Book Reviews

Schools of thought: How the politics of literacy shape thinking in the classroom by R. G. Brown. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass Publishers, 1991. Review by S. A. Beach. 57(1): 93–95.

Teaching advanced skills to at-risk students, edited by B. Means, C. Chelemer, and M. S. Knapp. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass Publishers, 1991. Review by L. S. Arnault. 57(1): 96–97.

Technopoly: The surrender of culture to technology by N. Postman. New York: Alfred A. Knopf, Inc., 1992. Review by D. E. Mack. 57(2): 201–2.

Thirteen questions: Reframing education's conversation , edited by J. L. Kincheloe and S. R. Steinberg. New York: Peter Lang Publishing, Inc., 1992. Review by S. L. Tetteh-Ocloo. 57(2): 198–200.

A variety of modern tales of Thailand by O. J. Shipla. New York: Carlton Press, Inc., 1991. Review by D. Turney. 57(1): 92.

Subjects

A

ability grouping, 64, 199; alternative to, 138–39

absenteeism. See truancy absolutism, of college student, 33 academic achievement, of African-Americans, 151, 153–54 achievement, and nature, 397–98 acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), 76, 80, 81–83 action research, 389–90 activism, J. Kozol's career in, 300–11 administration, and restructuring, 46–48; and school communication, 66 administrator, as father figure, 247; as role model, 183, 184; racist attitudes, 365; and student researchers, 392; and teacher education, 332 adulthood, success in, 35

African-Americans, academic achievement and self-esteem, 151, 153–54; Afrocentric curriculum, 22; and Afrocentrism, 149–50; attitude toward sex education, 83; and black history, 23; and career of J. Kozol, 300–11; civil rights movement, 266–76; and discipline-based art, 26, 27; as education faculty, 420; and integration at college, 279; learning style of, 262, 317–18; and liberal censorship, 166; and multicultural education, 149; perceptions of racisms of, 382; and politics of literacy, 93–94; and population trends, 277–78; and school context, 361–64; and school desegregation, 148–49; self-perception of, 146–56; student, help-seeking, 361; and textbook bias, 19

African-American Immersion Schools (Milwaukee), 368

Afrocentrism, 22, 149–50

alcohol use, and the alcohol industry, 86–87; beer commercials, 87–89; education to prevent, 84–89; history and myths of, 85–87. See also drug use alternative schools, 166–67; and dropout prevention, 65–66; Free School movement, 302, 304–5; J. Kozol on, 302

American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE), 20, 420

American Association of University Women (AAUW), 12

American dream, and moral ecology, 175–77

art education, 18, 25–28 artifact, 360; subjective, 361

Asian-Americans, 23, 24–25; language of, 407; learning styles, 317; population trends, 277–78 assessment, alternative, 262–63; in DAP classroom, 142–43; of education departments, 257–58; in higher education, 294–97; and minority advocacy, 398; progress reporting, 263; standardized tests, 142, 262, 414; See also evaluation assimilation, and ethnic identity, 125; versus cultural pluralism, 120–21, 122

asymmetrical society, 249

at-risk schools, 411

at-risk students, 62–69; adult mentoring of, 67; basic skills versus complex learning for, 415–16; dangers of labeling, 27; and discipline, 259; girls as, 12; and school level transition, 68–69; teaching advanced skills to, 96–97. See also dropouts authentic, celebrating the, 193–94 autonomy, versus heteronomy, 140–41

B

Basic Interpersonal Communication Skills (BICS), 402, 404

basic skills, changes in, 290; instruction, in urban schools, 413–19; J. Kozol on, 304 beginning teacher, age and life stage of, 34–35; in higher education, retention of, 423; turnover rate, 35

Bible, 365–66

bibliographic instruction, 280

bilingual education, additive, 130; balanced, 131–32; building expertise in, 402–12; contextualized ESL instruction, 354–55; controversy over, 402; dual language, 130–31; intellectual level of curriculum, 351; maintenance, 124–26; and metacognition, 350–58; models of, 120–21; motivation for, 128; "pockets of excellence," 407, 408, 409; primary components of, 403; primary language use, 353–54; recommendations for, 409–11; self-fulfilling prophecy model, 405–6; transitional, 122–24

Bilingual Education Act, 402

Bilingual Individualized Learning Programs (BILPs), 406

Bilingual Theoretical Framework (BTF), 403–12; and level of academic success, 404–6; side effects of, 405 biological determinism, 365 birth control, school distribution of, 81, 82–83

blacks. See African-Americans

"browning of America," 20, 24

C

capacity building, in bilingual education, 409–10

Carnegie Forum Task Force, 286–87 censorship, conservative and liberal, 166 change, in U.S. society, 42–43 chaos, stage of community, 377, 381 character development, William "Coin" Harvey on, 186–90. See also moral development; moral education child, autonomy versus heteronomy, 140–41; eagerness to learn in, 139; in his/her own culture, 398–400; and unstable social climate, 290 citizenship, education for, 304; and gender equity, 16; W. Harvey on, 188–89; and information literacy, 322–23; and knowledge, 315 civil rights movement, 18, 172–73, 266–76; and textbooks, 275 classroom, child-centered versus teacher-directed, 139–40; existentialism in, 192–93; goals in, 135; thinking and practice in, 136 codependency, 237

cognition, 234; developmental model (Piaget), 33
Cognitive Academic Language Proficiency (CALP), 402, 404 Cognitively Guided Instruction (CGI) method, 96 college student, disillusionment of, 172–73 colleges and universities, ethnic minorities in, 278; diversity in, 420–25; faculty service to state, 257; foreign language study, 127; history of grading in, 294–97; minority faculty recruitment, 420–29; schools of education, 256–58 collaborative learning. See cooperative learning colonialism, U.S., 45, 350, 355, 364–69
Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC), 425 Common Underlying Proficiency, 402 communication, and dropouts, 66–67; style, and minority failure, 397 communism, and illiteracy, 306; and teaching profession, 284 community, changes in, 43; minority, participation by, 398; -oriented policing, 57–58; and restricting movement, 44–48; values of, teaching of, 78
"Community Development" phase (FSU project), 45 compensatory education. See remedial education competence, 215–16
competition, classroom, reducing of, 15; as motivation, 328–29 computer instruction, 202 computer technology, as cognition enhancer, 238–39; and the information explosion, 235; as knowledge base, 239 conflict, and empathy, 327–28; intragenerational, 174; resolution technique, 14 conformity, equality without, 400–1 consciousness, and competence, 215–16 conservative censorship, 166 constant comparative method of data analysis, 389–90 contextualized instruction, 354–55 cooperative learning, 14–15, 184, 242, 318 cooperative supervision, 206 corporal punishment, in Boston schools of 1967, 303; school-family conflicts over, 165. See also discipline courage to be, 193, 194, 195 creativity, in teaching, 215–18 crime, in schools, police response to, 53–54; trends of, 50–51; and truancy, 54–55 criteria of play continuum, 140 critical literacy, 97 critical pedagogy, 325–26 cultural diversity, curriculum for, 371–85 cultural invasion, 368
cultural literacy, 202 cultural pluralism, and education, 290; and intellectual diversity, 420, 422, 426–27; and learning styles, 317–18; movement to institutionalize, 274; versus assimilation, 120–21, 122 culture, and school performance, 416–18 culture conflict, 398–400 culture of narcissism, 163 curriculum, academic level in bilingual education, 351; basics in, 198; bilingual science and mathematics, 354–55; and critical theory, 325–30; and cultural pluralism, 417; gender bias in, 12; hidden, 164; and information literacy, 316–17; integrated versus separate, 137; intellectual level of, and minorities, 361; and language minority (LM) student, 402–12; mainstream, and pull-out programs, 407; meaning-driven versus skill-driven, 137–38; and minority culture, 398; Multicultural Community Building (MCB), 372–85; multicultural reform of, 149; school-family conflict over, 165–66; for self-esteem, 14; sex education, 76–83; special education, 435; as subjective imagery, 329–30; teacher-proof, 252, 285; value-laden, 79–80

D

data, 313
data retrieval systems, 319
Dead Poets Society, 195
Death at an Early Age (Kozol), 300, 302–4 deduction, 213, 318
delinquency. See crime
"Democracy's Next Generation," 168, 169 desegregation, regression in, 302 development, models of, 32–34; cognitive (Piaget), 33; Erikson, 32, 33; moral (Kohlberg), 32 developmentally appropriate practice (DAP), 134–43; and thinking, 136; versus traditional practice, 136–37 diagnostic tests, 262
diffusion, identity, 32–33 disabilities, defined by school, 434–35; as cultural identity, 436 discipline, abusive practices, 259–60; as element of secular morality, 181–82; positive practices, 260–61; rules, 182–83 discipline-based art education (DBAE), 18, 25–28 disequilibrium, 134
diversity, creed, 359. See colleges and universities; cultural diversity; cultural pluralism; multicultural education; schools of education; special education; student; teacher(s); teacher education divorce, effect on child, 100–3 dropouts, college, prevention of, library's role in, 277–82; Hispanic-Americans, 350; preventing, and teachers, 63–69; and school environment, 62–65. See also at-risk student Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE), 55–56 drug use, prevention of, 55–56, 84–89; in public schools, 52–53 dysconsciousness, 360
dysfunctional family systems model, 378–79

E

education, affective aspects of, 288–89; defining, 38–40; of family life, 396; future of, 232; liberal manifesto for, 198–200; multicultural (See multicultural education); in nonschool world, 104–6; philosophy of, 209–14; purpose of (Pestalozzi), 396; schools and colleges of, 256–58; social implications of, 335 Education for All Handicapped Children Act, 432 egalitarianism, and private schools, 159; of U.S. education, 234, 394
The Electric Company, 307 elementary school, foreign language study in, 127; problems, and teacher education, 256; teacher education, 285–86 elitism, in art world, 27 emancipatory knowledge, 368–69 empathy, and conflict, 327–28; and ethic of caring, 397–98 empowerment, of minority student, 397, 398; of monolingual teacher, 409–10; of students, 392; of teachers, 251, 355 emptiness stage, of community, 377 English as second language (ESL), 351, 403; contextualized instruction, 354–55 equality, Pestalozzi as prophet of, 395–401; of results, 395; without conformity, 400–1 equity, in education, 309; gender, 12–17; meaning of, 25; in multicultural and special education, 433–35 escapism, and divorce, 102 essence, and existence, 192; pursuit of, 193–95 ethical, dialogue, 168–69 ethics, of caring, 397–98; of civic literacy, 168–77; of generative succession, 172 ethnic identity, and bilingual education, 124–26; formation of, 147–48 ethnic irrelevance, law of Anglo love of (Kjolseth), 120–32 ethnic studies concept, 19 Euro-Americans, attitude toward sex education, 83 evaluation, in DAP classroom, 142–43. See also assessment excellence, defined, 288 excusal option, 79

existentialism, classroom applications, 191–96 expectation levels, and dropouts, 64 eye contact, and culture, 399
Eyes on the Prize, film series, 267–76

F

Facilitator Skill Training, 373 family, and dropout prevention, 67–68; meaning of, 42; parent support groups, 184; and restructuring movement, 44–48; school as, 45–48, 247–50; and sex education, 77, 78; single-parent, 259; values of, and education, 162–67; values, versus school values, 164–66 family life, and education, 396
"Family Outreach" phase (FSU project), 45 Family/School/Community Partnership Project (FSU), 44–48 fear, as obstacle to essence, 192 feminism, and family values, 163; and teacher as mother figure, 249–50 forced bilingualism, 404 foreclosure, identity, 32 foreign language, education in, 126–29; versus minority language, 120. See also bilingual education; primary language instruction Free Exercise Clause (U.S. Constitution), and sex education, 77–78
Free School Movement, 302, 304–5

G

gender bias, in education, 252; and teacher education, 35 gender equity, 12–17; and self-esteem, 13–14 gender role, male sexism, 328; media modeling, and alcohol, 88–89; stereotype, 249, 327–28 General Education Provisions Act (1974), 79 generativity, 31, 32; and idealism, 171–72 Getty Center for Education in the Arts, 25–28 golden rule, 182–83
group(s), of all leaders, 375; attachment to, as moral element, 181–82; classroom, 14–15; heterogeneous versus homogeneous, 138–39

H

habitude, 360
Harvard University, history of grading at, 296–97
Hatch Amendment (1978), 79–80 health services, and dropouts, 68 heteronomy, versus autonomy, 140–41 hidden curriculum, 164
high school, adult mentoring program, 67; alternative programs, 65–66; foreign language study, 127; safety program for, 58–60 Hispanic-Americans, 326; attitude toward sex education, 83; and Bilingual Theoretical Framework (BTF) model, 404; and classroom culture, 421; and curriculum, 23; and diluted curriculum, 361; as education faculty, 420; identification as, 427; and learning style, 317–18; negative expectations of, 363; and population trends, 277–78; and school discrimination, 391; Spanish speaking, 120–21, 122–24, 125, 126, 127–29; and teacher bias, 262. See also Mexican-Americans holistic learning, 318
Holmes Group, 286, 287
homelessness, 307–8
human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), 82

I

idealism, ethical, 168–69; meaning of, 168, 175 identity, development of, in college student, 32–33; diffusion, 32–33; foreclosure, 32; mature, in teacher, 31, 32–34; moratorium, 32 illiteracy, J. Kozol on, 302, 305–7 illusion of knowing, 236, 240 illusion of teaching, 236–40 immersion method, of language teaching, 129–30; partial, 130 immigrant, language of, 120–33 inclusion, concept of, 380; inclusive schools movement, 433; of language minority student, 407 incremental trend, 232–34 individual autonomy, 181–82 individual differences, and inequity, 433 individualized learning, Bilingual Individualized Learning Programs (BILPs), 406; and student behavior, 261 Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 432–33 induction, 213–14
information, 313, 315, 316; as commodity, 319–20; privatization of access, 321–22; and public policy, 322–23; strategies for seeking, 318–19 information explosion, 233, 312; and academic library, 280 information literacy, and citizenship, 322–23; meaning of, 313–14; process of acquiring, 314–17; and resource-based learning, 318–19 information media, 234 information processing, 234, 235 instructional enabling, 236–38, 241–42 instrumental motivation, 128 integration, and minority retention, 279; multicultural education, 19 integrative motivation, 128 intelligence quotient (IQ), and student success, 65 intrinsic motivation, 196, 398; in teacher, 31 invisibility, and low self-esteem, 387; of minorities, 363–64 involuntary minorities, 363 isolation, feelings of, in youth, 33 iterative trend, 232–33, 234–35

J

Jewish Americans, and liberal censorship, 166

K

Kamehameha Elementary Education Program (KEEP), 421–22 knowledge, 313, 315, 316; previous, versus previous skill, 141

L

labor-management model, of school, 250–53 language, active use of, 398; bilingual education models, 120–21; of critical theorists, 325; English as a Second Language (ESL), 326–27; French, 129; gender-inclusive, 13; immersion method of teaching, 129–30; of instruction, 353–55; linguistic transfer, 123; low incidence and exotic, 407; of minorities, 120–33; and minority student (See language minority (LM) student); Spanish, 120–21, 122–24, 125, 126, 127–29, 353; as tool for social interaction, 351; used in drug education, 87; See also bilingual education; primary language instruction
Language Development Specialist (LDS), 410 language minority (LM) student, 402–12; innovation to excellence, 407–9 law of Anglo love of ethnic irrelevance (Kjolseth), 120–32 lead-management approach, 260–61 learning, and classroom rhythm, 391; cognitive theory of, 414–16; cooperative, 14–15; incidental versus explicit, 138; male and female strategies of, 250; and nature, 396–97; obstacles to, 386; ritual opposition methods, 12; and teaching, 232–45 learning styles, 21, 317–18; and teaching methods, 262; urban students, 415 liberal arts, and ethical idealism, 168, 173, 175; and teacher education, 334 liberal censorship, 166 liberalism, limitations of, 367–68 library, academic, feminization of librarianship, 248; and information strategies, 318; as public resource, 279–81, 320; role in minority retention, 277–82; support for, 320–22 life, transcendent nature of, 397–98 linguistic transfer, 123 literacy, civic, ethics of, 168–77; definition of, 93; of thoughtfulness, 93–95 literature, moral issues in, 184 locale memory, 261

M

MacNeil/Lehrer News Hour, 174–75
magnet schools, 166–67
mainstreaming, 433
male bonding, and alcohol, 88 masculinization, of female professions, 248 master teachers, 285, 286 materialism, 176–77
mathematics, and at-risk students, 96 memory, 234, 235; locale, 261; taxon, 261 mentioning, 236, 239 mentoring, adult, of at-risk student, 67; of junior education faculty, 427 metacognition, definition of, 352; and problem-solving, 355–58; and social interaction, 352; sociocultural contexts of, 355 metacognitive development, bilingual, 350–58 methodology, 334; inappropriate, 261; learner-compatible, 262; and problem-solving, 240–41; teacher-centered, 291 Mexican-Americans, 350–58. See also Hispanic-Americans middle school, advisor-advisee program, 67; students as co-researchers, 386–93 minorities, education, and career of J. Kozol, 300–11; as education faculty, 420–29; as exotics, 423; languages of, 120–33; and population shift, 20; and school underachievement, 394. See also African-Americans; Asian-Americans; Hispanic-Americans; Native Americans minority retention, factors affecting, 278–79; library's role in, 277–82 Models Project (1968), 285–86 monogenism, compared to polygenism, 365–66 moral development, Kohlberg's six stages of, 32 moral ecology, 176, 168–77 moral education, E. Durkheim's elements of, 180–82; W. Harvey's subjects of, 188–89; imagination and the future, 169–71; and private schools, 158–59; and sex education, 77–82; three R's approach to, 182–84 moral enclosure, 172–74 moral restraint. See discipline moratorium, identity, 32 motivation, competition as, 328–29; instrumental, 128; integrative, 128; intrinsic, 196; intrinsic, of teacher, 31 Multicultural Committee Building (MCB) curriculum, community training, 373–75; description of, 372–73; implementation of, 379–83; theoretical perspectives, 375–79 multicultural education, 430–32; and African-American self-perception, 149; Business as Usual Approach, 23; debate on reform, 23–24; definition of, 20–21; differences from special education, 433–35; Education That is Multicultural and Social Reconstructionist Approach, 22, 27, 371, 432; and ethical idealism, 175–77; history of, 18–21; Human Relations Approach, 21, 25, 431; intersections with special education, 435–36; Multicultural Approach, 22, 432; as personal process, 371–72; J. H. Pestalozzi on, 394–401; and relevant community qualities, 377–78; role of minorities in, 422; Single-Group Studies Approach, 21–22, 431–32; social reconstruction as goal of, 22, 27, 371, 432; Teaching the Exceptional and Culturally Different Approach, 21, 22, 26, 431; and urban schools, 413–19

N

A Nation at Risk (NCEE), 25, 286
National Commission on Excellence in Education (NCEE), 25, 286
National Crime Victimization Survey, 52
National Defense Education Act (NDEA) of 1958, 258
National Education Association (NEA), and concerns about multicultural education, 24–25
National Research Education Network (NREW), 319
Native Americans, 22; as education faculty, 420; and language, 120, 126; and learning style, 317–18; and literacy, 93; and population trends, 277–78; self-concept of, 399; sensory acuity of, 261; and teacher bias, 262; world view of, 399–400 nativist movement, 132
nature, and achievement, 397–98; and learning, 396–97
New School for Children

(Roxbury, Mass.), 302
normality, premise of, in special education, 433 nursing profession, 248

O

object relation theory, 249, 250
O'Farrell Community School (San Diego), 368
"one best system" model of instruction, 407 open schools, 166
oral tradition, 234

P

Pacific Islanders, 23, 24–25 parent(s), and dropout prevention, 67–68 partial immersion method, of language teaching, 130 participatory democracy, in classroom, 183; drawbacks of, 251 Peer Information Counseling (PIC) Program, 280 peer tutoring, 64
"people of color" criterion, 423 personality, inner- versus other-directed, 163 Pestalozzi, Johann Heinrich, educational methodology of, 394–401 physical education, coeducational, 16
"pockets of excellence," in bilingual education, 407, 408, 409 police, community-oriented, 57–58; within schools, 56–57 polygenism, compared to monogenism, 365–66 power, and education, 198–99; seekers of, and information, 314 practical knowledge, 367–68 practice, developmentally appropriate, 134–43; traditional versus DAP, 136–37; versus thinking, 141–42 primary language instruction, 351, 353–54; 402, 403 private schools, 157–59 problem solving, by consensus, 380–81; as learning goal, 239–40; and metacognition, 355–58; and school safety, 58–60 profession, definition of, 204 professionalism, of police, 57. See teachers Project HOPE, 54–55
prolepsis, 360
pseudocommunity, 376–77
pull-out programs, 406, 407
purposefulness, 192

Q

quality, in and of life, 37–38 Quality Schools, 38–40
questions, of educational philosophy, 214; to elicit the authentic, 193

R

racism, in art world, 27; contemporary and past, 274–76; denial of, 381–83; as developmental mediator, 360–70; and education students, 266–76; and housing discrimination, 169–70; and minority invisibility, 363–64; origin of, 366–67; power of, in education, 364–69; in special education, 434
A Raisin in the Sun* (Hansberry), 169–71 Ramirez report, 123–24
reason, and moral education, 183 recruitment strategies, collaboration in a competitive arena, 425–26; maintaining status quo, 423–24; recommendations for, 426–28; two wrongs make a right, 424–25 reference group theory, 147 reform movements, educational and labor-management school paradigm, 252–53 reform reports, 286–87, 288–91 reinforcement, and moral education, 183 relativism, of college student, 33 religion, and the schools, 199; and sex education, 79, 83; values of, and private schools, 158–59 remedial education, 64; 413–14; deficit model of; versus higher-level cognitive learning, 415–16 remedial instruction, and primary language use, 353–54 research, beginning teacher involvement in, 240; data analysis, 389–90; data collection, 387–89; doll preference studies, 148; gender equity in, 12–13, 252; nuances of, and rewards, 256–57; students as partners in, 386–93; on teacher education, 334 resource-based learning, 318–19 restructuring movement, 42–49; 253, 259–64; and at-risk student, 66–67; reasons for, 43–44; and student researchers, 386–93 role models, and self-esteem, 13–14; teachers as, 183, 184 rules, of behavior, 182–83

S

Savage Inequalities (Kozol), 302, 309–11
Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), and success in adulthood, 35 school(s), alternative, 166–67; and "browning of America," 24–25; "at-risk," 411; collegial paradigm of, 253–54; desegregation of and African-Americans' self perception, 148–49; and drug use, 52–53; familial paradigm of, 247–50; integrated, 151–52; labor-management paradigm, 250–53; lead-management approach to, 260–61; as mainstream culture, 398; and nonschool world, 104–6; police for, 56–57; private, and responsibility, 157–59; restructuring of (See restructuring movement); safety program for, 58–60; security in, 50–60; segregation of, 150; urban, and schools of education, 427–28; values, versus family values, 164–66
"School as Family" phase (FSU project), 45–47 school board(s), sex education policy, 80–82 school coordinator, 253
School Program to Educate and Control Drug Abuse (SPECDA), 56 schools of education, diversity in, 421–22; minority recruitment strategies, 423–26 (See also recruitment strategies); relationship with urban schools, 427–28; retention of junior faculty, 427 second language acquisition theory, 402 secular idealism, 172
secular morality, 181–82 self-concept, definition, 146–47; of Native American students, 399; positive, development of, 30–31. See also self-esteem; self-perception self-esteem, and academic achievement, of African-American, 151, 153–54; and adult role models, 13–14; definition, 146–47; and divorce, 102–3; and dropout prevention, 65; and gender equity, 13–14; personal versus racial, 148–49; teacher compared to student, 391. See also self-concept; self-perception self-fulfillment, and ethical idealism, 169

self-perception, of African-American children, 146–56; and development, 152–53. See also self-concept; self-esteem separation anxiety, and divorce, 102 service industry, 322
Sesame Street, 307
sex education, 76–83; court rulings on, 76–79; legislative action, 79–80 sexism, 328; in beer commercials, 88 skepticism, and idealism, 170–71 skill, previous, versus previous knowledge, 141 social class, and teacher, 164–65 social idealism. See ethical idealism social interaction, language as tool for, 351; and metacognition, 352; teacher-student, 391, 397 social reconstruction, 22, 27, 371, 432 social service, and dropouts, 68
Socratic dialectic, 188–89
Spanish language, 120–21, 122–24, 125, 126, 127–29
Special Alternative Instructional Programs (SAIPs), 408 special education, 64, 430; and cultural diversity, 259–60; curriculum in, 435; differences from multicultural education, 433; intersections with multicultural education movement, 435–36; parallels with multicultural education movement, 432–33; racism in; and school context, 362 spirituality, and education, 397–98 standardized tests, 142, 262; and basic skills approach, 414 stationary trend, 232–33, 234 stereotypes, damage done by, 329–30; and gender equity, 15–16; gender-role, 249; and liberal censorship, 166 Storefront Learning Center, 302 student, at-risk (See at-risk student); as change agents, 391–93; college, and identity, 32–33; with disabilities, 432; diversity of, 233–34; urban, and basic skills, 413–19; urban, learning styles of, 415 student teaching, 333. See also teacher-education subjective imagery, 329–30 success, in adulthood, 35

T

taxon memory, 261
teachable moment, 193, 195–96, 242 teacher(s), applying existential principles, 193–95; as artist, 215–18; attitude of, as block to learning, 390; and bilingual metacognitive development, 352–53; as boss-manager, 38; changing image of, 246; in collegial school paradigm, 253–54; cultural bias in, 262; dealing with child of divorce, 100–3; and dropout prevention, 63–69; empowerment of, 251; empowerment of, and bilingual student, 355; external demands on, 237; language minority student interaction, 406; and learning, 232–45; and learning goals, 239–40; militancy of, 291; monolingual English-speaking, disempowerment of, 405–7; as mother figure, 247; multicultural competence of, 394–95; need for collegial setting, 411; need for mature identity in, 31, 32–34; and obstacles to essence, 192–93; personal values, and diversity, 260; professional growth program in language, 410; professionalism 204–8, 291, 335; racist attitudes, 365; respect for, in past, 289–90; and restructuring, 46–48; role in bilingual metacognitive development, 356; role of, 414–15; role of, and technology, 241; as role model, 183, 184; shortage of, post-World War II, 285; social class of, 164–65; supervision of, 206–7; sympathy and conflict, 327–28; unprofessionalism, 207–8; and values, 167 teacher education, 30–36; call for reform in, 285–87; diversity in, 418–23; five-year program, 333; history of, 284–87, 332–35; knowledge of African-American experience, 266–76; and Multicultural Community building, 372–85; new perspective on, 256–58; program for excellence, 292–93; quality measures, 258; recognizing excellence in, 287–93; technology in, 238–39; trainee's age and experience, 34–35 teacher-proof curriculum, 252 teacher referral, and inequity, 434 teacher-thinking research, 252 teaching, and contagious enthusiasm, 288–89; as feminized profession, 247–50; methods, 261–62 (See also methodology); recognizing excellence in, 287–93 technical knowledge, 367 technology, global electronic networks, 319; for information seeking, 319; interactive video and hypermedia, 234; J. Kozol's bias against, 307; surrender of culture to, 201–2; in teaching and teacher education, 238–39 technopoly, 201–2
teenage pregnancy, 76, 80–81; teenage-parent program, 68 television, and myths about alcohol, 86–89; and the printed word, 201 tertiary education. See colleges and universities tests, standardized, 142, 262 textbooks, and multicultural reform, 19; social studies, 275 Thailand, tales of, 92
thinking, versus practice, 141–42 tracking, 64; and critical pedagogy, 326 trade, teaching as, 206–7 traditionalism, in education, 186, 189 trends, educational, 232–35; educational concomitant effects of, 235–38; implications for teaching and learning, 238–42 truancy, 54–55; and dropout prevention, 66 trust, in education, 38

U

unawareness, of freedom, 192

V

values, conflict between Native American and Anglo, 399–400; school versus family, 164–66; teacher and student, 260 Victims' Bill of Rights (California), 53

W

weapons, in schools, 50, 52
white nationalism, 364–69 wisdom, 316
women, in beer commercials, 88; development, and authority of men, 360; equity for, 12–17; and feminized professions, 247–50; idealism and self-fulfillment, 171; and labor–management school paradigm, 252; and liberal censorship, 166; status of wife, 162–63 world view, Native American, 399–400 writing, teaching of, to at-risk students, 97 written word, 234

Y

Yale University, history of grading at, 296–97